DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The amendment filed April 4, 2003 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: Note to the added languages in the appendix presented with the response on pages 12-14. The applicants fails to clearly provide an explanation whether the language derives from the specification or drawing originally filed. The statement such as claims and specification are "for the purposes of clarity and precision" is not sufficient to determine whether the issue of new matter has been added.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification as originally filed fails to provide support for the language "(s)aid physical information including at least one of the size and manufacturing material characteristics" and "(a)nd heating of said thermal development sheet is performed prior to thermally developing said development sheet.". in claims 1, 3, 5, 6; the language "(w)herein a means for heating heats said thermal developing sheet prior to thermally developing said thermal developing sheet" in claim 7, 9.

The languages added to the claims were not found in the specification as originally filed, and the applicants fails to particularly point out the antecedent basis thereof or provide a clear explanation as to why the adding of the language does not raise the issue of new matter, except the statement "claims 1-7, 9 are amended for the purpose of clarity and precision, and the specification is also amended". Note for instance the languages "manufacturing material characteristics", "mean for heating heats", or " a material of which the thermal developing sheet is made".

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for the physical information such as length and width and, does not reasonably provide enablement for other manufacturing material characteristics of the thermal developing sheet. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The specification fails to clearly describe as how to determine the minimum recovering time by detecting the manufacturing characteristics or a material of which the thermal developing material made.

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 1752

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claiming of "(a)nd heating of said thermal development sheet is performed prior to thermally developing said thermally development sheet" is unclear due to more than one sheets, and it is unclear as to which thermal development sheet is prior to thermally developing said development sheet as been thermally developed. The claimed language is confusing. The specification fails to provide support such as "manufacturing characteristics of the material", or provide the clearly description of the "material of which the thermal developing sheet is made". Therefore, the scope of the protection sought for the term is unclear.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
